DEC Collaborate Terminology

- Committee – a group designated as a “committee” by DEC Executive Office. A vote/selection process determines committee membership. Examples are the Policy and Advocacy Committee (PAC), the Leadership Committee, and the Inclusion, Equity, and Social Justice Committee (IESJ).
- Community – A DEC Collaborate Community is workspace where a committee of members can communicate and share. Members must have paid memberships to CEC/DEC. If membership lapses, the member’s account is suspended in DEC Collaborate until they renew.
- Community Admin – chairs/members are assigned this role. Community Admins can add and deleted members, additionally, they have access to moderation tools and other options.
- Community of Practice (CoP) – a CoP is a group of members AND non-members who communicate and share within DEC Collaborate.
- Community Notification Settings – change the email address, what day, and how (daily/weekly; real time/none) notifications from INDIVIDUAL Communities and CoPs are sent.
- Member – anyone who is a registered member of CEC/DEC. Can belong to Communities and CoPs.
- Nested Communities – breaks down the work of a Community into subcommunities or workgroups.
- Non-member (COP-only members) – anyone who is NOT a registered member of CEC/DEC. Non-members MAY belong to a CoP, however, they may NOT belong to a Community.
- Privacy Settings – change what personal information others see
- Structure of Nested Communities – The Nested Communities structure allows for multiple tiers of nest communities (subcommunities) to be nested under any Community. Members can belong to as many Nested Communities as necessary.

Clarification: Members – may join Communities & CoPs

Non-members – may only join CoPs (CoP-only members)
